

Emerging Artists Series Schedule

Thursday, May 23rd - Davia King

Davia King is an abstract expressionist artist who uses bright colors. By layering thin layers of acrylic ink and aerosol she captures a visual interpretation of creative energy. By allowing the composition to take on a life of its own rather than try to force a preexisting idea, each piece is unique and cannot be replicated twice exactly the same way. King then enrolls the public to act as her models as she captures each person in a blind contour style while creating a moment of connection.

Instagram: 12K

Twitter: 2,500

Thursday, May 30th - Sara Sandoval

Sara Sandoval is a multi-dimensional muralist, studio artist, doodler and digital media influencer. Known for turning walls into murals and clothing turning into wearable art. Sara is a prominent Youtuber who has over 120,000 subscribers, taking her viewers behind the scenes of her work and diving into her DACA/ Dreamer activist work.

Instagram: 94K

Twitter: 4,500

YouTube: 120K

THE PENINSULA

BEVERLY HILLS

Thursday, June 6th - Darkoski

Darkoski has developed his own language and alphabets inspired by ancient texts, hieroglyphics, symbolism, and more. Darkoski's artworks also draws inspiration from his passion of travels through the depiction of intricate layering, textures, and styles. The geometric patterns are what he sees beneath and beyond the human skin and the hieroglyphic texts are the lessons and stories he receives from the stars.

Instagram: 10K

Thursday, June 13th - Matthew Laurence Knott

Matthew Knott was born and raised on the beaches of Southern California, Matthew is best known for his bright, eye-popping style and obsessive use of color. There is a playful quality to his work that is influenced by his love for comic books and cartoons. Growing up Matthew found great inspiration in studying prolific artists such as Lichtenstein, Van Gogh, and Picasso. He is a self-taught artist with no formal art education.

Instagram: 12.2K

