Suite 100: The Beverly Hills Hotel & Bungalows, Montage Beverly Hills, The Beverly Hilton, L’Ermitage Beverly Hills and The Peninsula Beverly Hills are participating in Suite 100 where each hotel redecorated one of its suites in an effort to transport guests back to moments in time from the past 100 years and showcase the legendary style of one of the world’s most glamorous cities. Current rates at each hotel are relative to the average suite rate and are available throughout 2014.
www.lovebeverlyhills.com/suite100

AKA Beverly Hills: One of the newest hotel properties in Beverly Hills now offers shorter stay options ranging from 7 days or more. AKA balances the style and hospitality of an intimate hotel with the space and comfort of an elegantly appointed luxury apartment.
www.staya.com

Sixty Beverly Hills: Previously operating as Thompson Beverly Hills, Sixty Beverly Hills continues to offer 107 sophisticated rooms with sleek modern furnishings creating a stylish, luxurious experience for guests.
www.sixtyhotels.com/beverlyhills

Wallis Annenberg Center: The Wallis Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts combines a historic monument, the historic Beverly Hills Post Office, with a modern building to create a grand theater complex in the heart of the city. A 500-seat state-of-the-art Goldsmith Theater and a 150-seat studio theater showcases the finest in theater, music, dance, opera and professional theater for young audiences from around the world.
www.thewallis.org

Classic Car Show: The anticipated car show in Beverly Hills will take place on Sunday, June 15, 2014. The Fathers’ Day event is complimentary to the public and is held on the world-famous street: Rodeo Drive. As this year’s show is during the City’s Centennial, the theme of “100 Years of Horsepower” will highlight some of the most beautiful antique vehicles.

New Dining Options: Australian celebrity chef Curtis Stone joins other Beverly Hills celebrity-inspired dining haunts with the opening of Maude on South Beverly Drive. Maude features 29 seats and a menu that changes monthly to focus on seasonal produce from Southern California. Also in the Golden Triangle, Shiki, which translates to “four seasons” in Japanese recently opened in early March. Yoshihiro Aoki of Sakura Seven is in charge. Hakkasan Beverly Hills Restaurant offers a distinctive experience where modern Cantonese cuisine, world-class mixology and dramatic design converge. Tucked into the Beverly Hills neighborhood, Hakkasan greets guests with ambient sounds, scents and lighting, creating a relaxed mood and sensual vibe. Coming this Fall, Beverly Hills will welcome coveted restaurants including Ocean Prime and Spaghettini.

The Beverly Hills Lily Pond: To celebrate Beverly Hills’ Centennial, more than 300 people and 20 local merchants helped restore the century-old treasure. In spring, actual lilies will once again be introduced back into the pond. The lily pond settles in front of the famous Beverly Hills sign, one of the most photographed places in the city.