

BEVERLY HILLS DINING

Beverly Hills' eclectic, international selection of restaurants represents the pinnacle of Southern California dining embracing modern pillars of luxury. From local and sustainable sourcing to elevated culinary techniques that reinvigorate traditional methods, the Golden Triangle showcases eateries alongside opulent retailers. On Restaurant Row on La Cienega you'll find Nobu Matsuhisa's first restaurant, Matsuhisa, while on Little Restaurant Row, nearby on Cañon Drive, you'll find event more choices from around the globe.

With sun-soaked glamour and lush farmers' markets, the city attracts chefs from around the globe. Beverly Hills' culinary scene continues to see impressive growth with buzzy 2023 openings, including beloved New York institution Dante's debut at The Maybourne Beverly Hills, coastal Mediterranean at The Waldorf Astoria Beverly Hills' Espelette, Funke by Evan Funke of Mother Wolf and Felix Trattoria, and the revival of Sinatra-loved La Dolce Vita. Renowned Chef Daniel Boulud will soon bring Café Boulud to Mandarin Oriental Residences Beverly Hills in spring 2024.

MICHELIN RECOGNIZED

With more than 10 noteworthy restaurants in the MICHELIN Guide, the city is home to celebrity chefs, historic restaurants, mouthwatering steakhouses, wine bars, cigar bars & lounges to suit every taste. Celebrated Australian Chef, Curtis Stone's, Maude, Gucci Osteria da Massimo Boturra and Nozawa Bar boast one star, respectively. Kazan, which features the "Rolls Royce of Ramen" is proudly recognized as a Bib Gourmand while CUT by Wolfgang Puck is recognized as an honorable mention. Legendary names helm time-tested concepts and innovative offshoots, like Wolfgang Puck's Spago, or Chef Nozawa's popular Sugar Fish. Other iconic venues include Jon & Vinny's complete with an espresso bar and aperitivo hour, Vietnamese fusion restaurant Crustacean and celebrity hotspot The Hideaway, a Mexican steakhouse complete with "Press for Tequila" buttons at select booths.

AL FRESCO DINING

Few experiences capture the California lifestyle quite as completely as dining al fresco in Beverly Hills. Dining spots such as 208 Rodeo Restaurant and Il Pastaio offer tasty dishes served at sidewalk tables, perfect for catching a glimpse of a famous passersby. At The Belvedere at The Peninsula Beverly Hills and Polo Lounge at Beverly Hills Hotel, visitors will find private patio enclaves right in the heart of the city. Rooftop restaurants such as The Rooftop by JG at Waldorf Astoria Beverly Hills and Santo'lina at The Beverly Hilton serve a range of small bites, full meals and specialty cocktails set high above the city, offering panoramic views of Beverly Hills and surrounding Los Angeles sites.

HEALTHY AND NUTRITIOUS

California's reputation for pushing the boundaries of health-conscious menus comes to life in Beverly Hills, where diet-friendly venues cater to all palates. These outposts call on the state's abundant and flavorful fruits and vegetables while staying up-to-date on the latest health trends, dietary restrictions, and eclectic organic ingredients. Popular options include Beverly Hills' first walk-up window smoothie bar, Planet Smoothie, Thai Vegan for a new twist on Thai, vegan-based bakery, Chaumont Vegan, which turns out healthy, organic iterations of baked delicacies.
